List and filters are static or cached on the CDN. Each card shows live tier status ("Phase 1 · 38 left") from a Redis counter refreshed every few seconds. "Remind me" and "Join waitlist" capture a phone number so a WhatsApp or SMS goes out when sales open or tickets return.

Short description, lineup, theme, dress code. Venue map link and parking note.

Entry policy
Female and couple entry only. No stag entry. Couples must enter together. Government photo ID is checked at the door and must match the ticket name.

Policy sits above the tiers and again as a required checkbox at checkout. This is your main defence against refund disputes.

Pay deposit with Razorpay

Missing from your spec: table guests still need entry passes. Either bundle them into the table package or give the table host a share-link so each guest claims a named pass. Otherwise the door can't check them against the female and couple rule.

Sign up adds: full name, date of birth (age check), email, and a gender field used only for the entry policy. Terms and privacy checkbox.

OTP login means no password resets and no fake accounts from throwaway emails. Rate limit by phone and IP, with a bot challenge on "Send OTP".

Management log in

Staff only. Email and password plus a 2FA code, on a separate route that is not indexed.

You're in the queue

Sat 7 Nov · Event name. Tickets are going fast, so we let people in a few hundred at a time.

Your position

1,284

Estimated wait about 6 minutes

Keep this page open. When it's your turn you get 10 minutes to choose tickets and pay. Don't refresh, you won't lose your place.

Your turn: Get tickets (appears at the front)

Only shown for high-demand events. The queue is held in Redis and admits a batch at a time, so checkout only ever sees a few hundred active shoppers. This protects the database and keeps the experience fair.

Admin can add, move and cancel bookings, and block tables (for VIP or sponsors). Manager can manage them. Promoters have no access. A table's deposit refund goes through Razorpay refunds from here, and a manual booking sends the guest a payment link instead of taking cash silently.
